

ORDERS TO BOW SPECIALLY BY DISTRICT MEN

Captain Hobbs, Third Regiment, will get instructions by tomorrow.

OFFICERS AND MEN READY

Third Regiment Has Battalion Drill-Fog Postpones Contemplated Maneuvers.

Orders from the Department of the Interior for the training of the Third Regiment are hourly expected by officers and men of the District militia in camp at Radio.

Notification concerning their fitness for border service, sent to the Eastern Department by Captain Hobbs is now in the hands of those who will have final orders for sending the militia to the southwest. Judging from the previous intervals between such notification and entrainment orders a telegram from the Department of the East should reach Captain Hobbs today or tomorrow unless unforeseen delay should occur.

Has "Tip" From Department. When asked today when he expects these orders to reach him, Captain Hobbs stated "I do not know. I have been told unofficially," he continued, "that the Eastern Department has been notified by the War Department to send the District troops to the border, but as yet I have received no word from the department commander."

Col. Glendon B. Young, commanding the Third Regiment, has just returned from a three-day trip to New York. Col. Young is very optimistic despite delay in receiving orders. He stated he expects them within a day or so.

In the meantime, said Colonel Young, "while we are waiting for word from the Department of the East we will put in our time working and drilling as usual. The longer we stay in camp the better soldiers we will become."

Made Good Appearance. Washingtonians who attended the baseball game at American League Park yesterday afternoon were given an opportunity of judging whether or not the District militia has improved by its long stay at camp. Militia officers who watched the soldiers as they marched across the field stated they had never seen the Third Regiment make a better showing. Led by their band, the soldiers entered the field in deep right field and marched across the diamond to the section reserved for them back of third base. The men from Battery A received a burst of applause from the assembled fans as they brought up the rear of the column.

On account of the heaviest fog of the year which hung over the camp until a late hour this morning, the Third Regiment did not execute the battle maneuvers planned for the day. Instead, the regiment was marched to the Fort Myer drill field, where it went through battalion drills under the battalion commanders.

MARYLAND TROOPS PLAN TWO-DAY HIKE Militiamen at Eagle Pass Prepare for March.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Sept. 13.—Maryland militiamen are busy with preparations for their two-day hike that starts tomorrow. Every phase of field life that can be crowded into the hours away from camp will be experienced.

Last night the Marylanders were spectators of a fierce "battle" in which the Third and Thirtieth United States Infantry took part. The Thirtieth attacked a hill overlooking the camp, which the Third occupied behind strong works. In an attempt to draw near enough to rush the defenses the men of the Thirtieth had to crawl from one cover to another.

To make this task more unpleasant the field was massed mud, and the soldiers recalled that in several instances rattlesnakes had been killed among the boulders behind which the troops were ordered to take cover.

PETERS WINS FIGHT ON TRAIN ROUTING Pennsylvania and New Haven to Continue Direct Service.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrew J. Peters won his fight to induce the railroads to route trains from New England so that returning vacationists will not be exposed to the infantile paralysis epidemic in New York.

The Pennsylvania and New Haven roads have been running one train a week from Boston across the trolley bridge and into Jersey City to avoid entering New York city. Through Secretary Peters' appeal to the railroads and the Interstate Commerce Commission the roads have decided to extend this service until October 1st, although they had previously announced it would be suspended September 1st.

The two railroads also agreed to run two trains a week, which will be sufficient to accommodate all New England vacationists returning to Washington, Baltimore, and the South.

CHANGES IN NAVY MEDICAL SCHOOL Innovation This Year Will Be Correspondence Courses.

Changes in the length of the course and in the form of instruction to be followed at the Naval Medical School, which will open September 25, are now under consideration by Surgeon General Bratton. Seventeen student officers will attend the school, which will be held at the Naval Hospital.

PHYSICIAN GIVES THE TRUE VERSION Stricken With Sciatic Rheumatism and Helpless—Cured By Plant Juice.

The principal reason that the fame of Plant Juice has spread like wildfire throughout the country is because every one who has tested it or has seen what it would do, has a good word for it, and never misses an opportunity to speak it.

The history of Plant Juice, the way in which the manufacturer made it, and the events that followed, have been the subject of numerous newspaper articles throughout America. said The Plant Juice Man, in a recent interview at The People's Drug Store, corner of 7th & E sts. N. W. The story is an interesting one. But here is something more to the point: Plant Juice is now being introduced in the District of Columbia, and has already established a firm hold in Washington, where it is reviving and revitalizing people in all walks of life. That this contention is true, it is only necessary to listen to the statements of well-known people who have been benefited, as for instance, the signed testimonial of Dr. J. M. Ernest, who has been a practicing physician for the past 42 years, being a graduate of The Long Island Medical College, in 1875. He resides at Alliance, Ohio, and is one of the best known practitioners in the State.

"For the past five weeks I have been unable to walk, and was confined to my bed with sciatic rheumatism. I lost my appetite, and food was very distasteful to me. I was nervous, could not sleep at night and was run down in general. After taking one bottle of Plant Juice my pains have disappeared and I am now cured. I want to talk Plant Juice to all my friends, who will no doubt think it strange coming from a practicing physician, but I feel that I owe your medicine this public endorsement."

The Plant Juice Man is at The People's Drug Store, corner of 7th & E sts. N. W., where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.—ADVT.

Warwick a Model for Tramp Part

Burlesque Actor Studied Motion Picture Star in Screen Impersonation.

Washingtonians who see Robert Warwick act for the motion picture in front of the Capitol Building today, or who have seen him as leading man for Frances Starr or Grace George, or any of the other famous actresses with whom he has appeared, will hardly credit him as the model for the character of the nondescript tramp that Lester Allen is presenting at the Gayety Theater this week with the New Bon Tons burlesque show.

It is a fact, however, that Allen copied his character as faithfully as he could from Warwick, and it is difficult to determine whether he is prouder of the character he has made of it or the fact that he copied its outward appearance from the man who is rated as one of the handsomest leading men on the stage.

Native of Utica. Allen is a native of Utica, N. Y., and this is only the second season he has appeared in a tramp character. He has made such a hit with it that the chances are he will make it his own show and send him out with his own show.

shortly. His career has been rather rapid, in that of rise from the lowest ranks to that of featured player in a burlesque show.

He first appeared in the part of a tramp in a musical comedy produced by the late Charles Hoyt, in Coburn, N. Y. Allen was but a little less than 18. He and the stage adopted each other immediately.

For the last fifteen years, as a child, and half grown boy and man, Allen has appeared in all sorts of plays and all sorts of characters. After touring the country in musical comedy and drama, he was sought by the burlesque managers about four years ago for a comedy character. He tried them all during the first two years and acquitted himself well.

Engaged for Tramp. Last year he was engaged to play the character of a tramp. He determined to make it a new kind of tramp. For this purpose he studied all sorts of real tramps, but found nothing to suit him. One day he happened to wander into a motion picture theater where Robert Warwick was being starred in a film adaptation of the old stage play, "The Younger Son." Warwick played two parts, and one of these was that of a tramp. When Warwick first appeared on the screen Allen immediately recognized the make-up as the character he had wanted and hadn't been able to find.

When he came to make up the character he found there were several things about his personal appearance which would not jibe with the Warwick make-up. He changed it, slightly, therefore, putting on a putty nose to enhance the comedy value. But that was about all he did to it. The character as he makes it up today is practically a duplicate of Warwick, and Allen states that he intends to make it his business to see the stage and picture leading man today or tomorrow, and thank him, as the character has made Allen's success.

CHURCH TO TIGHTEN BOND OF MARRIAGE

Episcopalian Commission Would Bar Divorced Persons From Wedding Again.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—If the recommendations of a commission consisting of five bishops and an equal number of clergymen and prominent laymen of the Episcopal Church are adopted by the general convention which meets at St. Louis in October, it will be impossible for any divorced person to be married by an Episcopal clergyman.

Hitherto the canon law of the church has allowed an exception in the case of the innocent party in a divorce for adultery. Because, however, of increasing difficulty in determining the innocence of either party to a divorce, it is proposed to adopt a new canon absolutely prohibiting marriage in the church between parties either of whom has a husband or wife living and who has been divorced for any cause arising after marriage.

This legislation would not affect cases where the marriage relation is annulled by the courts for causes arising before the marriage.

BLAME 8-HOUR DAY FOR COAL SHORTAGE

Operators Say Fewer Hours Were Not Followed by More Intense Work.

One million more tons of anthracite coal could have been mined and shipped to consumers during the month of August, had the shortening of the workday in the mines to eight hours been followed by the increased intensity of labor prompted by the advocates of the shorter day, according to a statement issued today on behalf of the operators.

In other words, the statement declares, had the theories of the advocates of the shorter day worked out in practice the threatened shortage of fuel during the coming winter would have been somewhat less pronounced.

The shipments last month reported to the Anthracite Bureau of Information at Wilkes-Barre amounted to 5,631,777 tons, as compared with 6,422,125 tons for the corresponding month in 1915 and with 6,422,125 tons in July, 1916. "The minimum August shipments of anthracite," says the statement, "were sent out of the region. In spite of the shortage of labor in the mines this record could have been approximated this year if the promised increased intensity of labor following the shortened day had been fulfilled, and the

ECZEMA ITCHED AND BURNED CONSTANTLY

Used Resinol—Soon Entirely Cured

Mar. 10.—"I had itching eczema for almost four years. My shoulders, neck, arms and just below the knees were affected. It was simply a constant itching, burning, smarting sensation. The part below my knees was frightful. It would 'itch so, and with the least scratching become so sore, I could hardly stand it to bend them. I could not possibly sit down because I would naturally have to bend my knees, and that I could not do. I could hardly do my housework. I had tried different soaps, ointments, salves, liniments, etc., all too numerous to mention—all to no avail. At last I learned of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap and used them according to directions.

That night was the first time in many that I slept in peace, and in a short time I was entirely cured." (Signed) Mrs. G. C. Slaby, Box 30, Rockville, N. Y.
